There were forty-three new cases of nfluenza in Newport, R. I., yesterday among the civilian population, and forty iew cases among the sailors of the Sec ond Naval district. The Red Cross is sending nurses there to assist in caring for the patients. Nine nurses are in a ocal hospital suffering from the disease. The churches will be closed Sunday.

A hundred new cases were reported from Montclair, N. J., among the sailors at the Caldwell Rifle Range yesterday. Fifteen of the cases were serious.

There were ten additional deaths of soldiers from pneumonia at Camp Upton yesteday. Forty-two new cases of pneumonia were reported.

The local situation, although the number of cases increased greatly within the last twenty-four hours, is considered mained to volunteer their services to sub-normal compared with nearby citie of far smaller size. New York city reached its first thousand cases yester sub-normal compared with nearby cities, of far smaller size. New York city day. Deaths have been few.

$25,000 to Fight Disease Here.

Although the situation is admitted to be serious by Dr. Copeland, Health Comhas got only a slight foothold here in the same time that it has raged in other cities. There were 324 cases of influenza reported in New York for the last twenty-four hours ended at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Twenty deaths re-sulted from influenza yesterday and seven from broncho-pneumonia. Fortyone new cases of pneumonia were reported.

As a safeguard Dr. Copeland requested an appropriation of $5,000 and got $25,000 from a generous Board of Fetimate yesterday when he appeared before it to secure the means to wage a campaign against the disease if it should become more prevalent. The money if used will be expended for the employment of doc-tors and nurses, Dr. Copeland said.
